Members Of Coastal Commission Named

In December, various governing agencies and state officials completed appointments to statewide and to regional committees established by Prop. 20.

The Central Coast Regional Commission, one of six created under the initiative, will have sixteen members chosen from the counties of Monterey, Santa Cruz, and San Mateo, including the following:

Charles B. Kramer (Pebble Beach), retired manufacturer, Monterey County Planning Commissioner, and head of a citizens' group which forestalled an oil refinery at Moss Landing; appointed by Governor Ronald Reagan.

Mrs. Victoria Gibson (Carmel Valley), Secretary of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, graduate of Stanford University's Law School, and wife of retired California Supreme Court Chief Justice Phil Gibson; appointed by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti.

Julian Camacho (Capitola), engineer, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1972, and supporter of Prop. 20; appointed by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti.

Ruth Andresen (Salinas), research geologist; appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

Samuel Halsted (Menlo Park), consulting planner; appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

Norman Walters (Santa Cruz), retired teacher and former mayor of Santa Cruz; appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

James R. Hughes (Pacific Grove), dentist, Pacific Grove City Councilman, and immediate past president of the Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments, chairman of the Tri-County (Monterey, Santa Cruz, and San Luis Obispo) Coastline Policy Committee, and a member of the Urban Environmental Quality Committee of the League of California Cities; appointed by AMBAG.

Warren Church (North County), Chairman, Monterey County Board of Supervisors; appointed by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors.

Robert Quinn (Pacific Grove), Mayor of Pacific Grove; appointed by the city selection committee of Monterey County, consisting of the mayors of each incorporated city within the county.

Frank J. Lodato (Menlo Park), president of a film company and member of the League to Save Lake Tahoe; appointed by the governor.

Grace McCarthy (Pacifica), Mayor of Pacifica; appointed by a committee of councilmen from cities in San Mateo County.

Former State Senator Fred S. Farr of Carmel and Long Beach newspaper executive, Bernard Ridder were both appointed by the State Senate Rules Committee to serve on the state coastal committee. The governor and the speaker of the Assembly each also appoint two members to the state commission.

Farr, a Carmel attorney, was also highway beautification coordinator for the Federal Highway Administration during the Johnson administration and more recently has served as chairman of the Odello Land Acquisition Fund (OLAF).

Assemblyman Bob Wood, R-Greenfield, has been appointed as one of the five assemblymen to serve on a special Assembly committee which will work with the statewide and regional coastline commissions to set up coastal protection regulations.

"Our policy, and one that is in effect all over, is to issue the permits and advise the developers about the requirements of Prop. 20," said Monterey City Manager John H. Nail. "We make them aware of the requirements and leave it up to the individual if they want to risk subjecting their projects to review by the regional commission."

As for the city of Monterey itself, every major project the city hopes to undertake in the coming year lies within the 1,000 yard permit zone created by the coastal initiative, namely: 1. a twelve million dollar cultural conference center and hotel, to be located in the Custom House Urban Renewal Project Area; 2. the Del Monte Dunes Project, in which part of the dunes will be acquired for open space and the rest will be developed; 3. the Presidio Curve highway project to widen Lighthouse Avenue beyond the tunnel; 4. revision of the Cannery Row plan; and 5. Monterey's part in the Monterey Peninsula Water Pollution Control Agency.

King Junior High Students Visit Sacramento

TAKE TRIP - Students from Martin Luther King Junior High School board bus that took them to Sacramento for tour of State Capital and Sutter's Fort. Chaperones for outing included Kevin Flynn (in raincoat), ESEA Reading Teacher at King and Betty Mann (in white coat), Counseling Assistant at King.

Forty-six students participated in an educational field trip to visit the State Capital and Sutter's Fort in Sacramento. The students were accompanied by field trip sponsors and teachers from King Junior High: Mrs. Betty L. Mann, Peter Krasa, Kevin Flynn, Bill Leone and Margaret Porter.

The trip was provided by the E.S.E.A. Director of Compensatory Education of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, Mrs. Charlie Knight.

They were greeted by Assemblyman Bob Wood and Senator Donald Grunsky's Administrative Assistant and were taken on an extensive tour of the State Capital and the Governor's chambers and private office. The students were accompanied to the Legislative Assembly chambers by the State Capital's tour guide where they were lectured by Assemblyman Bob Wood and Senator Grunsky's Administrative Assistant on legislative bills and how they are passed and other elements of state congress.

Each student received a personalized document from the offices of the Senate and the Assembly signed by Assemblyman Bob Wood and Senator Grunsky. The students were very impressed with the expansiveness and eloquence of the governor's chambers and private office. They were shown relics and artifacts that were found by Mrs. Reagan in the remains of Sutter's Fort which were preserved and refurbished and hung along the walls of the Governor's Chambers.

After the tour of the capital, the students toured Sutter's Fort and were fascinated by the preservation of Sutter's Fort of which they had already read and studied about in their history books.

King Junior High is undertaking many educational programs to enlighten the students.

This semester 175 students were on the Honor Roll which is approximately 25 percent of the student population of King Junior High School.

In April the 9th grade class is planning a field trip to Yosemite.

OEO Will Conduct Survey Of County Senior Citizens

Mrs. Fannie Hernandez, newly appointed Director of the Senior Citizens Program of the Monterey County Office of Economic Opportunity, announced recently that the first task her staff will perform is a door-to-door survey of Seniors in Monterey County. The survey will provide information as to needs of the Seniors and how these needs can be met by the proposed program. Under the new County sponsored Community Action Agency, Mrs. Hernandez points out that the emphasis will be on Senior Citizens helping each other and themselves. One primary goal is increasing the available income for the Seniors.

The OEO Senior Citizens Staff will assist the staff of the Alliance On Aging of the Monterey Peninsula in a survey of Senior Citizens in all sections of Monterey County in order to prepare an Area Master Plan for Senior Programs. This survey will document the special needs of older people in the area, identify community resources now being provided and those still needed by older citizens.

Aline Lantron, a Salinas resident, will be working primarily in North County.

Helen Walker will be working in the Salinas - Spreckles area.

Sarah Duran will cover North Salinas and work closely with the other two.

Artemisa Fabela has the big job of covering the South County Cities from Chular to Bradley, working from her home in Soledad.

Sarah Duran will assist her as she is able to.

Mildred James will be working throughout the Valley on a full-time basis.

The position of Supervising Aide for the Valley has not been filled. The program is looking for a particularly well qualified Spanish speaking senior for this position.

On the Monterey Peninsula, James Lyle, a resident of Marina, is the Area Supervisor.

Marie Beaudin is the full-time aide working Peninsula-wide. With her are:

Roscoe Bluitt who covers Marina, Seaside, Del Rey Oaks and Sand City.

Dorothy Bates covers Monterey and Pacific Grove.

Dorothy Peterson covers the balance of the Peninsula.

All of the staff in the program are seniors well aware of the problems and opportunities available in the program.

For information call the Monterey County Office of Economic Opportunity at 758-3381 or 375-0434.

Dan Piazza Is KZEN's Gospel Head

Accepting a challenge is nothing new for Dan Piazza, who is Gospel Program Manager for Seaside's radio station, KZEN.

(In the absence of Andy Barragan)

"From the hour you're born you begin to die. But between birth and death there's life. Death is a pure fact as is birth; it comes to us from outside and it transforms us into the outside." - Jean-Paul Sartre.

"Between birth and death there is individualism" - Clint C. Porter.

The individual means nothing as such, but everything as a link in the chain. He has two ways to go: either he can do his utmost to forget that he is an existing individual, or he can concentrate his entire energy upon the fact that he is an existing individual.

As an individual, we have individual thoughts, individual concepts, individual likes and dislikes. We were not placed on this earth by a Higher Being to like and dislike collectively, because we are individuals. And as individuals our tastes differ.

Hold on, we are approaching the point. We can not build a castle from the top down, we have to lay a foundation. Any mason knows that the more solid the foundation, the sturdier the castle.

If you, yourself, as an individual, laid a foundation for your "castle" (your inner self), then you have no fear of anyone shaking your structure or penetrating your castle. So why worry?

Two excellent examples of unsturdy foundations were received last week in the form of letters

Flight To Oakland Approved

Valley Airlines has received approval from the California Public Utilities Commission to provide air service between the Monterey Peninsula Airport and the Oakland International Airport.

There are now two round trips on weekdays and one on Sundays. The one way fare is $12.96.

According to Don Klein, sales manager of the airline, "When visiting the Bay Area, the Oakland Airport is far more convenient if your destination is one of the Eastbay communities. And, downtown San Francisco is just 15 minutes away."

Valley started serving the Monterey Airport last September and provides the only direct flights to Santa Barbara, San Jose and now Oakland.

Named To Committee

Selection of John H. Rivers, associate dean of students at Monterey Peninsula College, was announced recently for participation in a statewide project to help California community colleges cope with their responsibility to prepare students for employment.

The project, now in its second year of development and application of a systematic method for evaluating colleges' occupational education progress, is titled COPES (Community College Occupational Programs Evaluation System).

COPES represents a cooperative effort between public two-year colleges throughout the state and the Chancellor's Office of the California Community Colleges in Sacramento.

Rivers was selected to serve as a COPES team member for program evaluations.

CITATION--James Wester (left), co-owner of Wester Volkswagen in Seaside, accepts certificate citing his service as vice-chairman of Volkswagen Dealer Distributor Advisory Council. Presenting citation is R. W. Hansen, president of Reynold C. Johnson Co., northern California, northern Nevada and Utah distributor for Volkswagen.

Meeting Is Planned

The first meeting of 1973 of the Monterey Bay Republican Women's Club will be held on Tuesday, January 23, at noon at the Elks Club, 150 Mar Vista Dr., Monterey. Mr. Henri Ledeboer of Pacific Grove will be the speaker of the day.

The cost of the luncheon is $1.75 (including tax and tip) to be paid at the door. However, reservations close Friday, January 19 at 8 pm. They may be made by calling Helen Short, 394-1084.

Mr. Ledeboer's topic will be: "Let's tee off and try for a perfect '74". He is an accomplished public speaker and has received many honors from Toastmasters International. Prior to his loss of sight, he was the Chief Engineer of 20th Century Fox Film Corp.

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everybody.

People who have developed a talent for cuisine are often proud of the fact that they have been able to add a succulent dimension to their lives. Many have indeed earned the soubriquet "gourmet" and take it quite seriously. Jackie Gleason, the portly comedian who facies himself a gourmet of incomparable, is one who does not. When asked when he first noticed his preoccupation with food, he replied: "As a kid back in the Midwest, when the other kids would sneak into the barn to smoke cigarettes, I'd sneak around back and smoke a ham."

Some men, however, are less inclined to treat the subject of cooking lightly. To them, it is an art. A craft in which they take great pride. An extension of their inner self. A mode of expression. And it is a serious business. Many chefs in the United States make over $25,000 annually, which makes cooking for some--big business. These men supervise meals for large restaurants and very often have 10 or 20 men reporting directly to the. They are responsible for everything that goes to table and the enormity of that responsibility is best reflected in the expansiveness of individual likes and dislikes they must cultivate and avoid offending.

These men have reached the top of their profession. They are chefs-not cooks. But most assuredly, they began as cooks. There are more opportunities for cooks now than ever before thanks to rapid growth of the fast food industry. The need experienced and knowledgeable people is very real and it can very often be the start of something that turns out to be quite a bit bigger. All it takes is a beginning. And for some that beginning initiates in TODAY'S ARMY.

TODAY'S ARMY has long been a spawning ground for some of the country's top culinary talent. The Quartermaster School at Fort Lee, Virginia is renowed for its high level instruction to aspiring young men and women with a interest in cooking. At the moment, TODAY'S ARMY is in need of more such young people. The demands of the new Modern Volunteer Army have intensified this search and young people enlisting in TODAY'S ARMY are exposed to an unprecedented variety of options, benefits and travel possibilities.

An enlistee now starts at a salary rate of $307.20 a month. In addition, he is provided with free room and board, complege medical and dental care, 30 paid vacation days annually and a chance to pick the military installation at which he'd like to work.

We have satisfied many young men and women with our job opportunities. We can also satisfy you. Stop by and let's discuss our programs at 431-Webster St. Monterey, or call 372-4742/ 372-0553.

TAKE OATH - Carrie M. Chavis, daughter of Mrs. Lovie J. Chavis of Seaside, is commissioned ensign in Naby Nurse Corps by Lt. Margaret A. Leineweber, Nurse Programs Officer for San Francisco Naby Recruiting District. Senior at University of San Francisco, she will serve on active duty for two years following graduation.

Little Change Expected At Fort Ord

The scheduled implementation of the Army-wide reorganization plan, which was announced by Department of Army recently, is expected to leave virtually unchanged the missions and personnel strength of Fort Ord and its associated units.

Included among the actions in the plan is one to reorganize Headquarters, United States Continental Army Command (CONARC) at Fort Monroe, Virginia and Combat Developments Command (CDC) at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, into a training and Doctrine Command located at Fort Monroe.

At Fort Ord this means that the Army Training Center and Combat Developments Experimentation Command (CDEC), previously commanded by CONARC and CDC respectively, now will be under the centralized control of the new Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC).

This change in command orientation will not significantly alter CDEC's mission or impact on currect or proposed experimentation activity.

CDEC headquarters will remain at Fort Ord with the major portion of its troop strength situated at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation. No significant reduction in CDEC military of civilian personnel strength is expected to result from the Army reorganization.

This reorganization should not be confused with an ongoing CDEC internal realignment program begun in the fall of 1972. This internal CDEC program will result in a limited reduction of troop strength in some CDEC headquarters elements due to the consolidation.

Approved For Full Vet Benefits

If you are a veteran, you have the equivalent of a $2,000-a-year scholarship waiting for you if you enroll in college.

Thanks to new G.I. Bill legislation, benefits have been increased to approximate a $2,000-a-year scholarship. To qualify, a veteran must be enrolled in an approved educational institution, such as Monterey Peninsula College.

MPC is approved by the Veterans Administration for full educational benefits. Ex-servicemen can receive undergraduate training prior to going on for a bachelor's degree, or they can get occupational training which prepares them for full-time employment following graduation.

A variety of services are available to the veteran, including counseling, loan programs, tutorial assistance, work study funding and assistance in finding full- or part-time work during and after completion of study.

Assistance to veterans at MPC is coordinated through the Veterans Affairs Office in the Student Services Building. In addition to helping the ex-G.I. receive his educational benefits, the office refers veterans to other agencies which help in solving specific problems.

Veterans not now attending college, but interested in finding out how they can take advantage of their educational benefits, should call MPC immediately. The admission deadline for full-time enrollment for the spring is January 24. Classes will start on February 5.

For information about registration at MPC, call the registrar at 375-9821.

Five big reasons why winter living makes your PG&E bill go up:

You cook more hot meals.
More heat escapes because of lower outside temperatures.
You need more heat because of colder weather.
You spend more time indoors reading or watching TV.
Your lights are on more because days are shorter.

Here's what you can do to take some of the bite out of winter heating bills. Insulate walls and ceilings, weatherstrip around windows and doors, pull drapes over windows at night, and close fireplace damper when not in use. PG and E from a couple of our readers protesting the display of an ad published in this paper. The ad was received in this office and paid for by the House of the Third Inn in Carmel. It featured Religious Incense Spray. Several kinds were mentioned: African Powers Spray, Jinx Removing Spray, Double Fast Luck Spray, Blessed Spray, Love Spray, and several others. Each spray had instructions or directions in the use of it.

Seaside Ripples

Now we all know that mere advertising the spray has nothing to do with the morality, sincerity, integrity, or suggestions from this newspaper.

The ad was received as what we call "copy ready." We published it. Immediately we are branded. More correctly, I was branded. Both letters were addressed to me personally. Not Andy Barragan. Not the Seaside Post News Sentinel, just to me. A lady said the ad "is the most horrible insult to our Lord that ever was yet." She went on to say I disgraced His name "with such trash after he shed His blood for us." She ended by hoping God would forgive.

I would have let the incident pass without saying a thing about it, except the next day I received another letter, this time from a gentleman. In both cases they enclosed a copy of the ad, as the gentleman said, "Enclosed is a copy of the latest offense, in case you're not up on your copy." We thank him.

Before that he had exhausted three pages of deridation and mockery at me, personally, for publishing the ad. Such phrases as "Clint, straighten up and fly right." or "A man is subject to the pattern he lays down for himself in his life." He calls the religious spray "crap" and right after that phrase used words like "Blessed be Jesus."....etc.

What are these people afraid of? Is their "castle" shaking just a wee bit? Isn't their foundation strong enough to withstand this incenseshake?

This isn't directed only to the ones who wrote the letters, or the ones who wanted to write, it is directed to each existing individual: No one can melt you and pour you into a bottle of Religious Incense Spray unless you wanted to go. No one would have sat down and read the entire ad on Religious Incense Spray unless they were interested. I remember once we ran an advertisement for the topless/bottomless club in Seaside. People glanced at the advertisement, and if they were not interested in it they only glanced. Their eyes immediately went to another section of the paper. No one was offended (except one lady who called us on the phone and politely told us that she wasn't interested in that sort of place - we were not surprised.) But we received not one letter and that ad ran for four weeks straight.

These same people were receiving the paper at that time also. They both said they have been keeping up on the condition of Mr. Barragan through the paper.

Speaking of Mr. Barragan, Andy is progressing along slowly but steadily. He is doing his "dailies" and keeping up with the latest happenings. One of the latest happenings will be the Military Appreciation Day the Seaside Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring on January 27, 1973. The memorable event will be held at the MPC Gym at 8 PM. All military with active military ID cards will be admitted free. They may pick up their tickets at any of the participating merchants, whose name and address is listed in the ad in this paper. The Chamber urges everyone to pick up their tickets early because there were only a limited amount for distribution because of the "capacity" clause.

I like to pass on good things to good people, and all of my readers are good people. You do not have to agree with me to be good people. In fact all I ask is that you "Be For Real." Anyway, if you didn't take advantage of the sale at Walters (you still have a few days) you really missed a good thing. I picked up a stack of those short sleeve shirts for only $1.99, and when I came home I compared them with some of the $7.50 shirts I have, and I was heartbroken because I could not tell the difference. A few weeks ago I did the same thing at Marotta's in downtown Monterey. They had a pants sale. A week previously I paid twice as much for a pair of pants that was on sale. I'll just have to read our paper more closely and follow the sales more earnestly.

Well I gotta go. I'll end with a phrase I just heard since our last edition: Those who Spray together - Stay together.
Hang Loose.

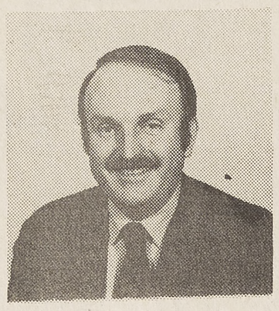
Your Supervisor Reports



ROGER POYNER

If you are not a resident of the City of Monterey you cannot check out a book from the Monterey Public Library without first getting a nonresident card for $16. This unjustly penalizes students, teachers, and other borrowers who live in Seaside, Del Rey Oaks, and county areas. They have been paying county taxes to keep Carvel's and Pacific Grove's libraries open to non-residents. This year the County offered $20,000 to the City of Monterey to open its circulation to non-residents for the next fiscal year. From its past records the Monterey Library could show that the cost for such service would be at least $22,300. I urged the Board of Supervisors to take the offer and "unlock" the circulation of the Monterey Library.

My motion to do so passed unanimously. The next step is to get the City of Monterey to accept the county's offer so that starting July 1, 1973 our peninsula libraries will be open to all.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

MILITARY APPRECIATION WEEK

After much planning and discussion, the Board of Directors of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce has decided to show its appreciation to the military personnel of the Monterey Peninsula by proclaiming MILITARY APPRECIATION WEEK from January 27 to February 3.

Over the years, attempts have been made to welcome the military to our community of Seaside. Early last fall, meetings were held with the Sargeant Majors at Fort Ord to learn what might be the best way to show our appreciation to the many military personnel who live and shop in Seaside.

It was determined that the most exciting event would be to put on a big variety show for the military, and, to also plan sales and special discounts for them and the entire community to enjoy.

Therefore, the Seaside Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the "Military Appreciation Variety Show" to promote "Brotherhood-by-the-Sea" at the Monterey Peninsula College Gymnasium on Saturday, January 27, at 8 p.m.

Fabulous local talent, such as Barbara Kelly from the Warehouse, Jerry and Sue from the Outrigger, Debbie Joyce, Jon Baldwin and many other entertainers will make this a really great show.

Tickets for the show are being given FREE at participating businesses in Seaside. (See our advertisement on page 5 for the names and addresses). The members of the Chamber are putting on this show with the entire community in mind, so stop in to one of these stores and get your free ticket today!

Letter to the Editor

Editor: The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, the National Alliance of Businessmen, and the mayors of Monterey, Seaside, Del Rey Oaks and Sand City have joined in a program to bring to high school students a vastly greater knowledge than they now have of the career opportunities available in our economy. This Career Education program was initiated on November 14 with a seminar on the automotive industry held at Seaside High School by one of our auto dealers, assisted by Seaside Chamber of Commerce.

The program will be under the auspices of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District and the National Alliance of Businessmen, and requires your cooperation and participation to ensure its success. We need speakers from business and industry to tell their "career stories" to our students. We want variety -- a machinist, a tool maker, a bank teller, an automotive repairman, an instrument repairman, a production inspector, an inventory control man, an auditor, a personnel manager, a secretary, a nurse, a fashion designer, a probation officer, a cosmetologist, the owner of a small business (several different kinds), a hotel manager, an airline mechanic, a telephone installer, an X-ray technician, a dental assistant -- all kinds of jobs! We also want the students to see people working at those jobs, and that may mean a brief tour of your operation and an opportunity to talk with you and your employees.

You can make the difference in this program, for it may be you who describes a job that becomes a career for just one student; who convinces that student that he should stay in school and get his high school diploma, and stimulates him to further learning at the community college level to enhance his career; who convinces him that he should be a vigorous participant in our challenging and rewarding economy. With your help we may make the big difference in the life of the young people in our community.

We are starting this Career Education program with the expectation that it will become a permanent aspect of our high school programs. In that regard, we intend to start at a modest pace and build a meaningful program over the months ahead. When we determine that your participation will be most helpful, we plan to call you and ask for your help. But, please don't wait for our call. If you wish to participate in the program at an early date, or if you have some suggestions as to how you might contribute to it, you may call Mrs. Lilian Ullman of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District directly at 649-7351. You may also call Miss Verlaine Crawford, General Manager, Seaside Chamber of Commerce, on 394-6501. She will coordinate your desires with the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District office.

Please remember that you make the difference -- the big difference. We hope you will be able to join us in this serious undertaking.

Sincerely,

MARTIN LUTHER KING

This week's column is dedicated to one of our great Americans - Martin Luther King. The edication is in honor of his birt day which was Monday, January 15.

Martin Luther King was a man who devoted his life to the cause of the betterment of those Americans who lived a life of poverty and discrimination. He led the fight towards breaking down the barriers of discrimination in this country by raising the conscious level of all Americans towards those who were unfortunate. He was a MAN of non-violence and this led him to direct his efforts of social reform through using the ministry and the legal channels provided through the courts.

Through his leadership in 1955, he was successful in breaking down segregated seating in Alabama. During the 60's he was successful in changing the law in the South regarding segregated eating facilities. Because of his peaceful approach to change, he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

He continued to fight injustices towards his follow man and paved the way for much social progress for Black Americans. He truly demonstrated to the world that all Americans could live together regardless of color.

Dr. Martin Luther King was tragically killed in April of 1968 at the age of 39. Because of his image, we must all attempt to continue on his great work.

HAIR

A number of weeks ago Clint Porter and I considered putting my picture at the head of this column. "Everybody else has their pucture in the Post," said Clint, "it might blow a few minds." And he told me, "people who already like the column will either like it even more, or stop reading it altogether."

I am not aware of what the percentage of response has been in either of these categories, but I am aware that some people have, in fact, responded very negatively. "My God, he's white!" "And he's a hippie." Plenty of people still have this attitude of shock.

Once upon a time Blacks were prejudiced against. They still are, but in many respects being Black today is really "in." Today long hairs are the "niggers" of America; discriminated against, insulted, spat upon, sneered at. They are turned down for jobs, refused their unemployment benefits, seated by the kitchen in restaurants, and even refused entry in certain establishments. Don't tell me about discrimination. The "hippie" knows what it is to be a nigger in America.

"But hair you can cut, black you can't wash off," some people say. True, but just because a cultural phenomenon such as long hair raises a red flag in the bigot's mind, long hairs will wear it long as a mirror for human predjudice. Not many people understand this fact, but he can no more cut his hair than a Black can wash away his blackness, because it is part of him. It represents his freedom.

It amazes me that Blacks who know the hell of discrimination can join the rest of white-middle class-America in the joint effort of discrimination against long haired youth, the common niggers in both Black and White culture. But it happens all the time. The Black Culture becomes another sub-culture of White America and can join with White culture in condeming the Counter Culture. Much Black culture today is only more darkly tinted White culture. Look at Ebony magazine; all the black female models have Caucasion features, which appeals to the subconscious desire in many Blacks to become White. Such Blacks idolize White culture, or at least their cultural values: wealth, success, fame, and power. The Counter Culture, on the other hand rejects all of this, and therefor becomes

Don't tell me about discrimination, I know what it is, not from books but from personal experience. In America, and in most parts of the Westernized world, long hairs are niggers, wops, spicks, polacks, communists and satan worshipers all rolled into one, the scape goats for human bigotry.

And it never ceases to amaze me that a "Christian" can envision Jesus Christ as having long hair and a beard, and at the very same time see long hair to be a sign of degeneracy in youth today. If Jesus were here today, He would be busted just as surely as he was 2,000 years ago.

"Jesus is one thing, but what about you, hippie, why you got long hair?" I'm glad you asked that question.

To the Counter Culture hair is the outward symbol of inward freedom (real or wished for). It is surely non-conformist, and is proudly meant to be so because the Counter Culture sees conformism to the edeals and life styles of middle class culture as being slow and certain death of the spirit.

Of course we know long hair has no meaning itself. It does not, per se, tell us anything about the relative worth of the person under that hair. We have all seen good and evil people with short hair, good and evil people with long hair. Today, thank God, many people on both sides of the cultural coin are seeing this truth. And this gives me great hope in the innate goodness of the original ideals of America.

The original intent of long hair was to signify getting back to all things NATURAL. Hair grow long by itself, so let it grow naturally. This was part of the original philosophy behind the "style" (which obviously to White-middle class-America that the person under that hair is no longer one of their children. They have left father and mother behind because they must seek freedom of spirit - NOW! The hair is simply a silent witness to all the world that the person rejects certain things of Western Culture; plasticity, pollution, war, injustice and the moral degeneracy of a culture where violence is rated G and making love is rated X.

This at least was the original intent of wearing hair long. Unfortunately, as a symbol of high ideals, it has degenerated. All kinds of people have long hair today, from the "hip" capitalist to a cultural monstrocity such as Charlie Manson, the actions of whom the much as does the dominant culture of America.

All of us wait for the day when people's consciousness raises to the level where length of hair means nothing at all, just as the color of one's skin means nothing at all. For, every human body, no matter what it looks like, is the moving temple of God. We are all one human family. We are all ONE in reality, for we are all various manifestations of the one Divine Will of creation.

Black is beautiful. Hair is beautiful. All of life is beautiful, for it is all the perfect manifestation of God who loves us all, even though, in our hardness of heart, we can not always love one another.

Inspirations

YOUR FRIENDS ARE MY FRIENDS

A few years ago there was a great classical song among young children. It goes like this, "The more we get together, together, together, the more we get together the happier we'll be. For your friends are my friends and my friends are your friends the more we get together the happier we'll be."

God declared to his people in all ages of life by saying, "I am a jealous God," when we place other things before him. Today we don't think of having other gods, but we so many times put other things before our God. We put our own desires, our homes, cars, clothes, etc., including our friends. God don't want us to put anything before him. This means friends, T.V. stories, movies, football, dances, nothing that will seperate us from our God. Put away all things, but tell your friends about God's love for him. God loves your father, mother, sister, brother and your friends.

As soon as Jesus, Being born in the likeness of sinful flesh, has come to years of maturity, and has commended his real life work, he at once discloses his friendship for sinners by associating with them. You do not find him standing at a distance, issuing orders to sinners to make them better, but coming among them. We cannot meet our friends needs, but Jesus can. We cannot give the true answer to our friends problems, but Jesus can and will. He does not write a prescription, and send by another hand his medicines with which to heal the sickness of sin; but comes right into the house, touches thewounded. There is healing in his touch.

Have you introduced your friends to Christ, the girls you play with, the boys you run with, that woman that lives next door or the one across the street, or that man on the job. Jesus would love to meet them through your life. If your friends are lost, then the world is lost.

Officer Alan Frees

A native of Pennsylvania, Alan Frees was born in Pittsburg. Through his learning years, he attended schools in Texas, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. Officer Frees graduated from high school in Pennsylvania and went on to a military academy in Virginia.

After the military academy, Frees attended Erie Business College in Erie, Pennsylvania. Prior to completion of his courses at Erie Business College, he entered the U. S. Army where he served three years as an infantry/paratrooper serving one tour in Vietnam. In the last year of his enlistment, Frees was assigned to Fort Ord, where he gained a liking for the area, and upon his discharge, he joined the ranks of the Seaside Police Department on November 11, 1971.

During his time with the Police Department, Frees has graduated from the Central Coast Counties Police Academy, located in Gilroy. He is also attending Monterey Peninsula College to further his education. While in the employ of the city of Seaside, Frees has worked as a patrolman.

Officer Frees stated that his goals are "to gain a BS degree in Administration of Justice, and to go as far as he can within the structure of Law Enforcement. It is indeed a pleasure to have a person of Officer Frees' caliber working with the Seaside Police Department.

As I See It

"Ziegler, get in here, and I mean right now."

"Yes, sir, Mr. President. Is anything wrong?"

"You'd better believe it, Ziegler. How come you didn't brief what's-his-name, my new Undersecretary of Defense?"

"Oh, you mean Clements, that guy from Dallas. Sorry about that, Mr. President. That was kind of bad, wasn't it - him telling the reporters he wouldn't rule out nuclear bombing in Indochina."

"Yes, Ronald, it was bad. Laird tells them we cut a big pipeline, and it turns out we didn't. Jerry Friedheim tells them we didn't blast a hospital to smithereens, and it turns out we did. I wish I hadn't told them I was going to end the war. They're beginning to get restless. And now, Ziegler, you'd better be convincing when you tell them we're not going to use nuclear bombs. You can be replaced, you know."

"Yes, Sir, Mr. President."

"And tell Laird I want to see him."

"He's here now, sir."

"Good. Melvin, we've got a problem."

"Just one, sir?"

"Don't try to be funny, Melvin. It's about this fancy electronic equipment our pilots have been using to make sure we didn't hit anything but military targets around Hanoi and Haiphong. How come five of our planes managed to just about ruin one of our own biggest airbases with it last week?"

"I don't know, sir. Maybe it was plugged in backwards."

"Not good enough, Melvin. Before you leave here next week you get together with Richardson and think up something the public will swallow in one gulp, and it better be good or they'll start worrying about us hitting the P.O.W.s and we'll be in trouble with Hebert on the Armed Services Committee."

Yes, sir, Mr. President. Anything else, sir?"

"Yes. If anybody asks you about what you think about our prospects for peace, tell them you've got a sore throat."

"Yes, sir, Mr. President."

"And one more thing, Melvin. We've got a great team shaping up for 1976. Nobody can beat Spiro Agnew and Jimmy Hoffa, so you just stay out of the way. O.K.?"

Yes, sir, Mr. President."

Special Sales, discounts and/or Open House in Seaside!

WHERE DO I GO

All persons on the golf course MUST wear proper identification, either an admission ticket or official badge. Spectators must remain back of ropes, stand where they are at the command of marshals and stay off greens and out of sand traps.

Please do not seek autographs on the course.

We beg you to be considerate in taking photos, the sudden buzz of movie cameras might well cost a player the tournament.

Finally, remember a golf ball is made of hard rubber. It can travel 153 miles per minute. This could crack a coconut. Give the golfers plenty of room.

AND WHAT DO I DO

Eighteen holes each day for 72 holes. Foursomes tee off beginning at 7:15 a.m. and at 8 minute intervals thereafter. There are 137 professionals and 137 amateurs, paired.

Three-way field rotates Thursday, Friday and Saturday over Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill courses. On Sunday the low teams, plus ties and pros in the money play Pebble Beach.

The tournament is medal play with each day's score being added to the next for the 72 hole total. The pro-amateur prizes are awarded on a best ball basis.

Either partner can pick up at any point. Amateurs must pick up if they are out of the hole. Pros cannot pick up and remain in the straight pro competition.

Moon Rock To Be Displayed

A rock from the moon will be on exhibition through January 26 at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. The rock was collected on the Apollo 11 flight by Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin. The particular specimen being shown was the first examined by scientists at NASA's Lunar Receiving Laboratory.

The rock is igneous in origin (formed by melting and subsequent crystallization of rock material) and is similar to volcanic rocks from the earth, especially those found on the Hawaiian Islands. By Uranium-Thorium-Lead dating methods this rock was found to be 3.9 billion years old. Many scientists hoped the moon would contain a record of the history of the solar system. They believed the moon had undergone little change in the billions of years since its formation (about 4.5 billion years ago) and thus would provide a relatively undisturbed record. The rocks returned from the moon were much older than any yet found on earth, but still younger than the moon itself.

This rock, along with all the other lunar samples brought back by the Apollo missions, showed evidence of surface erosion by hypervelocity impacts of micrometeorites. This type of "weathering" does not occur on earth because our atmosphere burns up the tiny micrometeorites long before they ever reach the surface. On the moon, with no atmosphere, all micrometeorites hit the surface forming tiny craters and glass splashes on the exposed rocks, eventually rounding the surfaces.

The moon specimen will be available from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily. The museum is closed on Monday and may not be seen on that day. Admission is free. Telephone 372-4212 for further information.

SERENE - This photo by Lee Hinton of 3197 Tillman, Marina, was taken off coast of California at sunset, when all was peaceful. It appears that nature is asking question which has many answers. The picture is soon to be published nationwide.

Fashion Show Scheduled

"Saks Fifth Avenue Goes to the Crosby," a luncheon fashion show, will be presented by the Salinas Jaycettes during the week of the Crosby Pro-Am Golf Tournament. This will be the first showing of Saks Fifth Avenue's spring collection on the Peninsula.

Church Elects New Readers

At a recent meeting of the members, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Monterey, elected Stephen Gottschalk of Carmel to serve as First Reader for a three year term. In this position Stephen Gottschalk will conduct the Sunday and Wednesday evening services at the church.

Assisting him on Sundays as Second Reader will be Ms. June D. Epps elected at the same meeting. The new Readers begin their term on Sunday, January 21.

The Christian Science church consists entirely of laymen, and local members are democratically elected to fill all administrative posts and to conduct services.

The two elected Readers carry the main responsibility for the Sunday and Wednesday evening services of the church. Their primary duty is to read the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Sunday. This is a weekly compilation of related references from the Bible and the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

During the week, the same references serve as a Bible Lesson on a specific topic such as God, Man, Reality, Sacrament, or Matter. It is studied daily by Christian Scientists throughout the world. Read at the Sunday service, it becomes the sermon. Hymns, prayer, responsive reading by the congregation, organ music and a solo constitute the rest of the service.

The Wednesday evening meeting, conducted by the First Reader, includes a period when individual members of the congregation speak informally of experiences of Christian healing as understood in Christian Science.

Oakland Gospel Choir To Sing Here

A gospel choir from a ghetto church in Oakland will provide the music for a special mass planned at St. Matthias Church on Sunday, January 28.

St. Bernard's Gospel Choir will sing at the 6 p.m. celebration at the Church, which is located at Noche Buena and Kimball. The choir is made up of high school students and is directed by Johnny Oliver, a college student. According to Sister Sebastian, principal of St. Bernard's Elementary School, the choir started when eight young people decided they wnated to sing together, and its membership has grown to nearly 40.

Father Joe Watt, priest-in-charge at the Catholic Mission of St. Matthias, and Jim Van Lane, who is working there in his final year of preparation for ordination to the priesthood, heard the young singers at St. Patrick's Seminary at an Ethiopian mass, and invited them to Seaside. Father Peter Uqbamariam, who is from Ethiopia, will be the celebrant at the mass here.

Fun Fair Scheduled

Students at Fremont Junior High School in Seaside will hold their annual "Fun Fair" on January 25 from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the fair, said Mrs. Lucile Pedego, whose vocal music and allied arts department is sponsoring the event. Proceeds will help support the activities of the department, she said.

Admission is free, and there will be "lots of food," she said. Students will man food and games booths.

New Show At Museum of Art

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art announces three new exhibitions for the month of January.

Opened Friday, January 5, on the Balcony, is a recent acquisition of the Museum given by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Greatwood of Carmel. It is a set of Japanese picture scrolls done in 1919 of the 53 stations of the Tokaido Road. The artists, Sondra and Kashu collaborated to show continuous scenes from Tokyo to Kyoto.

Open in the Main Gallery is International Prints, an important collection of modern printmakers from many countries. Included are works by Georges Rouault, Georges Bracque, Joan Miro, Kaethe Kollwitz, Hans Arp, Jacques Villon and many more. They are on loan from local collector and Museum Trustee, Ralph Atkinson.

Also open in the Main Gallery is a collection of Pottery illustrating "Historical Perspectives on Contemporary Pottery". It will serve to introduce a University of California Extension course with the same title which will begin January 30. Lent by Dori Bodenheimer of Santa Cruz who will conduct the course, the collection is a combination of the old and new showing the influences on contemporary potters. In some instances photographs will be used to show the comparisons.

Anniversary Is Celebrated

The Marina United Methodist Church celebrated its 10th anniversary on Sunday, January 7. Mrs. Charles White, the organizing minister, who served as pastor from 1962 to 1965, preached the anniversary sermon. She is currently the worship chairman.

An anniversary dinner will be held January 14, at 6:30 p.m. with Dr. Herbert Neale speaking. Dr. Neale, pastor in Carmel, was District Superintendent when the church was organized, and was in charge of receiving charter members on the first Sunday of January, 1963. Current membership is 124, though a total of 250 members were received in the first 10 years. Being located next to Fort Ord accounts for a rapid turnover in the congregation.

The modern hexagonal shaped all purpose unit, with open beams and large glass windows preminent, was consecrated in 1965. Pastors appointed since Mrs. White have been: Charles Krahenbuhl, 1965, Clair Snell, 1968, Julius Davis, 1970.

Swinging With Vickie

Last Saturday, the Del Rey Cultural Center presented Daily Bread, who are out of San Jose, and Hallelujah, a group now playing here in Seaside. Daily Bread proved to be exceptional; their music was very fresh and alive. Maybe they will return soon.

January 20, The Cultural Center will present two performances, featuring Waterfall, Bronze Hog and Elements of Peace. The first show will be from 2 to 5 and the second from 8 til 11:30. The admission will be $2.

Coming soon will be COLD BLOOD, Black Jack, and 1843. That will also be divided into two performances. We will keep you informed.

WHAT'S HAPPENING THIS SATURDAY? NIGHTFIRE will be having their premier performance Saturday, the 20th, at Mission Ranch. This new jazz-rock group consists of six players, Joe Mac Rae and Jim Dale, Guitar; Steve Siegrist, bass; Robbie Rye, drums; Philmore Ratt, organ; and Louis Esclovon, congos. It should prove to be a good happening.

Registration For Choral Society Open

The Monterey Peninsula Choral Society announces registration for the spring term, Wednesday, January 24, at 7 p.m. at Fremont Junior High School, Kimball Avenue, Seaside. Adult School fee is $3 and Choral Society dues, $10 annually.

The Choral Society, under the direction of Haymo Taeuber, Symphony Conductor, was acclaimed for its recent Christmas Concerts at Carmel Mission. Rehearsals are now under way for a Spring concert and for the annual performance as guest artists with Monterey County Symphony Orchestra in May.

Ability to read music and a choral quality voice are required. Auditions for voice placement will be held during registration. For further information phone Dorothy Buffor, 394-6351, or the Symphony office, 624-4125.

Scholarship Deadline Is Tomorrow

The California State Scholarship and Loan Commission reminds high school seniors that the postmark deadline date for the filing of College Opportunity Grant applications is January 18, 1973. College Opportunity Grants are primarily for disadvantaged students who plan to utilize their college education at a public community college.

New grants are to be awarded to students who generally, though not exclusively, are minority and come from low income families and who are not necessarily able to obtain scholarships by the use of conventional selection methods. Such students who believe they are in need of financial assistance may secure application forms from their high school or the Commission office in Sacramento.

Reporters Rights Are Show's Topic

Rod Holmgren, chairmen of MPC's journalism department since 1959, will discuss reporters and their confidential sources on KSBW-TV Sunday, January 21, at 4 p.m.

"It's time law enforcement agencies stopped trying to use reporters as unpaid investigators," Holmgren says. "It doesn't work, for many reasons, including the fact that any source will refuse to talk if he knows the information he gives might be forced from the reporter by a jail threat."

The veteran radio and newspaper reporter, who entered the teaching profession 14 years ago after more than 20 years as a working journalist, will appear on KSBW's half-hour discussion series, "Viewpoint."

The subpoenas by which courts, district attorneys and congressional committees have recently tried to make policemen out of reporters are part of a larger attack by government on the press," Holmgren said this week. "The attack is endangering the people's right to be fully informed about their government, a right clearly protected by the first amendment."

Monte Carlo Night Set

Mrs. LaVerne Blikre, President of Monterey Peninsula Zonta Club, has announced the sixth annual Monte Carlo night, sponsored by the local Zonta club, will be held Saturday evening, February 10 at the Rancho Canada Golf Club at 8 p.m.

The evening will feature various games, live music, cheerful libations, a tasty buffet and a lively auction all for the price of $4.50 per ticket.

There are a limited number of tickets to be sold so it is suggested people wishing to attend purchase their tickets in advance from any Zonta club member. A few tickect will go on sale at the door the night of the event.

All proceeds go to Zonta charities and scholarship in the Monterey Peninsula area.

For further information, call 372-3857 or 373-116.

Mini-Bike Race Set

The newly formed Spartans Mini-Bike Club is hosting its first regular race of the year to be held January 21 at Spartans "Raceway" behind Seaside High School.

Sign ups are from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. A fee of $1.50 for members and $2 for non-members is charged.

Also the club is still accepting registration for membership every Saturday and Sunday from 12 to 5 p.m. at the Raceway. Come on out and become a "Spartan."

Honor Martin Luther King

Students at Seaside's Martin Luther King Junior High School observed the civil rights leader's birthday last Monday, January 15, with an assembly aimed at bettering human relations, Principal Billy DeBerry has announced.

DeBerry said the assembly was staged by the school's "human relations team," made up of students representing each nationality on campus. Members of Seaside's Human Relations Commission were invited to attend, he said.

Featured at the assembly was singing, discussions about Martin Luther King and a display of flags of nations represented among the student body.

The Silent Killer—CO

Carbon Monoxide poisoning is silently hiding in your car's exhaust system.

CO is an odorless, tasteless, invisible gas. It can seriously injure or kill its victim by cutting off the oxygen supply.

Preventing CO from entering your car is the best protection.

- Have the exhaust system checked regularly for leaking pipe connections, blown out gaskets, and holes in mufflers or tailpipes;
- Keep the engine well tuned —to keep CO production low;
- Never warm the engine in the garage or sit in a parked car with the engine idling.

CO can seep into the car through an open trunk lid or the open back window of a station wagon. Exhaust fumes tend to rise and follow the car.

Symptoms of CO may be: tightness across the forehead, throbbing in the temples, headache, weariness and signs of fatigue.

Any of these signs may mean you have been exposed to CO. Stop your car and get some fresh air.

Can Save Car Costs

To keep your car in top running condition, you don't have to be an expert automobile mechanic, but you should know how to talk to one.

That's the advice Carol Lane, Women's Travel Director for Shell Oil Company, gives motorists in informative new booklet on car care.

"What Every Driver Should Know About a Car" contains tips on preventive maintenance, details of what motorists can do to aid in reducing automotive air pollution and information on tires, gasoline and motor oil. Copies are available free from Sheel Oil Company, One Shell Plaza, P.O. Box 2463, Houston, Texas 77001.

Miss Lane points out that today's cars are so complex -- the average one has more than 15,000 parts -- that they are beyond the comprehension of all but the most mechanically inclined driver. But every driver can learn a few of the basics to be able to carry on an intelligent conversation with an expert in car care.

"Preventive maintenance -- having certain things checked by an expert before they cause trouble -- can save a car owner a lot of time and money in the long run," she says. "A quick look at your budget will remind you that owning and operating a car is a big item -- second for most families only to the cost of housing."

Motorists can also do a great deal to improve air quality, she points out. Keeping cars properly maintained can go a long way toward reducing automotive air pollution.

To learn how engine maintenance helps keep down the cost of operating a car and aids in reducing pollution, Miss Lane attended one of Shell's Dealer Management Development Centers, where potential dealers are trained. "I learned that some of the smallest and least expensive parts of your car can give you some of the biggest headaches if they are not functioning properly," she reports. "Just one dead spark plug can boost hydrocarbon emissions by 10 to 15 times normal; this means wasted fuel and pollution. And if more than one spark plug is dead or so weak or dirty that it won't fire properly, your car might not start at all."

Other items which should be checked regularly and replaced as recommended include air and gasoline filters, points, and the PCV valve. In her new booklet Miss Lane explains the function of each of these parts and its importance to a car's efficient operation.

Another valuable book, and one which is selfom read, is the automobile owner's manual, Miss Lane says. "It not only lists services which must be performed to maintain a car's warranty, but outlines schedules for regular maintenance work."

With the aid of these two booklets, every driver can save money and help protect the environment, Miss Lane says.

CHECK THAT AIR FILTER

Most air filters are good for 12,000 miles or one year of service. One way to check is to tap it lightly with a wrench. If dust and other particles spill out, it is time for a change.

Registration Can Be Mailed

Motorists by the thousands are heeding the Department of Motor Vehicles' suggestion and renewing their 1973 vehicle registrations by mailing a check to the Seaside office reports manager Joseph Walton. An office address is printed on every renewal card.

"Many of our clerks are busy opening letters, verifying checks and mailing back license plate stickers in unprecedented numbers."

One problem his staff has encountered, Walton said, is some checks being made out for the wrong amount -- especially when people are paying for more than one vehicle with a single check.

Another problem is caused by vehicle owners who send only half of the registration form. DMV needs both halves -- the entire folded card.

"One half we keep," said Walton, "the other we mail back to the owner with the license plate sticker after we print the sticker number on it.

"Naturally, people shouldn't fold, staple or curl the punched renewal form, nor tape anything to it."

The DMV office is open for business from 8 to 5 Monday through Friday. It will also be open from 8 to 12 on Saturday, January 27.

Vehicle owners who fail to renew their registrations in an envolope postmarked February 2, 1973, or by 5 p.m. that date in a DMV office, will be assessed a late charge.

Some people have asked about the extra dollar which is being charged this year. This one-time-only fee goes into an "Abandoned Vehicle Trust Fund" to help remove unsightly junk cars from the California landscape.
